

TOOTH CYANIDE OR STRYCHNINE

Jacob Wagner died of one's Life After Denial of Own Life
According to Verdict of Coroner's Jury after a Thorough Investigation of Facts.

Jacob C. Wagner, of Mount Pleasant township, arrested last week on charge of forgery, was found dead in his bedroom, near 74 Lehigh street, about 10 o'clock, Saturday morning, below dead on Monday evening.

The arrest was made last week on information of H. E. Bialek, cashier of the Farmers' Bank of Gettysburg, Pa., charging the defendant with the forgery of a note for $100 payable to the Farmers' Bank and attaching thereto the name of Bialek Bros., of Conowingo township, Md. The warrant was served by Officer Dougherty and John Edward Wagner's bail at $100. It was said that he was trying to escape with money which would furnish him the means for his flight to avoid his trial.

After further investigation, after for Coroner Wagner's body, after for all the facts in the case, and after consulting with Dr. Lindenberg, of Gettysburg, and Dr. H. M. Hartman, of York, Pa., the coroner has concluded that "Jacob C. Wagner died of his death by taking a poisonous substance."

The physician believes that the fatal poison can either be cyanide or strychnine and the latter. The body which was found dead last night could not contain any powder as it was first supplied by retail druggists of Gettysburg and the druggists of this town who sold the powder to him.

It was also stated that the death of Jacob C. Wagner was not a suicide, as three analyses to determine the cause of death had been made, and having an analysis of the contents of the dead man's stomach found that it contained a poisonous substance.

The bottle which contained the poison, which was found near the body, was found to contain a white crystalline substance, which was found to be strychnine.

DRUMMER, BOY TELLS STORY

Drummer Boy in Battle of Gettysburg Tells of His Experience Here. Met Brother in Opposing Army of Harperstown.

Drummer C. Dunn, a drummer boy in the battle of Gettysburg, and for many years an engineer on the Northern Central railway, and who was recently placed on the retired list as a pensioner, has had a very unusual interest. Mr. Dunn is now living in Baltimore and tells of his interesting story of his experience here.

"I was a drummer boy at Gettysburg. My family was living at Harperstown, Georgia, when the war broke out, and being an artist, I was made out in the North. There were many people here, and I was very much interested in the war. I was very much interested in the war. I was very much interested in the war.

"A reception was given Rev. and Mrs. E. W. Stumbraker Thursday evening. To better accommodate the large number attending the public hall was annexed for the occasion.

Rev. John Schaefer has accepted the pastorate of St. Paul's Reformed Church at Quarryville, and with his family are now located in this borough. Their children, Mrs. H. A. Scott, of Gettysburg, and Miss Mary, were present at the reception also, the attendance being about 175 persons. While socializing, music was furnished by Raub's orchestra.

PERSONALS

Robert S. McClean, circulation manager of the Haverley Telegraph, had a most interesting story of Monday evening's edition on "The Making of a 20,000 Circulation Newspaper."

"Eddie" Plank delighted his Gettysburg friends by winning his first game he has pitched this year when the Athletics defeated Boston on Monday.

Dr. A. H. F. Fisher, of Exton, well known in Gettysburg, has announced his intention of leaving his Exton church where he has been pastor for eighteen years. His resignation will take effect within a year.

SPORT

Mike Donlin Will Add Strength to the Pirates.

According to Manager Fred Clarke, the addition of Mike Deulin to the Pittsburgh Pirates gives the team an excellent chance to win the pennant. He believes the former member of the New York and Boston teams will inject the true fighting spirit into his teammates and that his batting will be a big aid to the Pirates. Deulin is now in good shape and says he expects to have a good season.

Runner Twosome in Training.
Louis Twosomey, the famous long distance Italian runner, who is a student at the U. S. Life Insured school, has been named as a candidate for the Olympic games at Stockholm under the direction of Physical Director Glenn S. Warner.

Twosomey, according to the state-covered to run in any of the spring events this year. It is realized that the Indian is one of the greatest long distance runners in the world, and his course of training will be especially rigid and exacting.

Bashag May Not Compete.
George Bashag, distance runner, and plan, may not compete in two of the chief events in the Olympic games at Stockholm next summer because they are scheduled for Sundays. Both athletes have religious scruples against Sunday games, and it is said that Boorhagen may decide not to contest in the 10,000 meter run, scheduled for Sunday, July 7, while Thomson may not take part in the pentathlon on the same date and five events on the decathlon on Sunday, July 14.

Thanks to the foresight of the managers, the ultimate success of the e-a-am division of the grand circuit appears to be assured, and the prospects are that the five big harness meetings—Fort Erie, Haverhill, Salem, Hartford and Syracuse—will make a finer, better record than some others where the track owners and managers enjoy the extra revenue of open meetings.
